

J. Zick/Keystone

istockphoto

So you want to improve your English? You're not alone. English teaching is big business. Multinational language schools, small independent schools, adult-education classes, private teachers, schools in your own city and schools abroad all promise quick results. Teaching you at home or in the classroom, they will be happy to take your money in exchange for lessons. The range of classes on offer is huge and can be confusing. While we can't tell you how much you should pay, we can help you to narrow your search. So, if you're thinking, "It's time for me to do a course to improve / refresh / perfect my English", how can you find the right one? The best way to start is to ask yourself a few questions: How much time have I got? What do I want to learn? Who should teach me, and how?

On course for English!

Entdecken Sie Ihre Möglichkeiten — und die vielen Arten, Englisch zu lernen. VANESSA CLARK erläutert, welche Fragen Sie sich stellen müssen, um den richtigen Kurs zu wählen und so das meiste aus Ihrer Zeit und Ihrem Geld zu machen. medium www.

Lessons of all kinds: making the right choice proposal [prə'pɒzəl] Vorschlag m. (Heirats)Antrag

 m. propose [prə'pɒz] vor-schlagen; ~ to j-m e-n Hei-rantrag [prə'pɒz] f Behauptung f (Ei-geschäfts-)
 protein [ˈprəʊtiːn] Protein Eiweiß n
 protest 1. [ˈprɒtest] Protest m.; 2. [ˈprɒstɪst] Protestant tantisch; 2. Protestan-tische
 proud [praʊd] stolz
 ragen; vorstehen
 prove [pru:v] Ar-
 be-, nachweise-
 rausstellen od
 ven [ˈpru:v]

pudding [ˈpʊdɪŋ] Pudding Nachtisch m
 puddle
 punch card