Mindful teaching

Dear Colleagues! This month, we focus on vocabulary: a warm-up with adjectives (p. 2), an exercise on footwear vocabulary and a board game that involves practising phrases using "mind" (p. 3). Every activity offers learners the chance to practise speaking! In "Talking teaching", we are honoured to interview Jane Revell, a highly reputable international trainer and consultant for over 40 years. Turn to page 5 to find out how she integrates "mindfulness" into her work.

On the spot

Language work: Fluency practice
Preparation: None
Materials: Various articles, bell
Time: 10 minutes

- Write these sentences from the magazine on the board: 1) "My dishwasher has a mind of its own" (p. 56) 2) "So, are you going to sell your house?" (p. 56) 3) "Are you sure you checked all your pockets?" (p. 10) 4) "Can you imagine living in 20 square meters?" (p. 16) Clarify any vocabulary.
- In pairs, students should take turns reading out the "conversation openers" on the board. Their partner has to respond in a convincing way. Pairs must keep the conversation going for two minutes, until you ring the bell.
- If desired, model the activity with a strong student, using this opener: "Like, 'Oh, man, we're going to be weed dealers'" (p. 37)
- Start the speaking activity. Remind students to keep the conversation flowing as naturally as possible, with as little hesitation as possible.
